L. & N. R. R. COMPANY PLAYS WITH PUBLIC

Audience With Officials Fiasco, Bad Faith Displayed

Late in the afternoon of last Thursday the Writer was called by Hon. Alvis S. Bennett, of Louisville, and was told by Mr. Bennett that the L. & N. people were figuring on a schedule of train service over the M. H. & E., that would be even better than any heretofore asked for, and perhaps better than the service contemplated under the proposed bill, now before the Kentucky Legislature. The Company of course was proposing this special service to our long suffering public, with the view of obtaining the consent of our people and that of Representative Mason, to have the proposed bill withdrawn, at least that was implied.

Mr. Bennett told us that the Company desired that we send a delegation of representative citizens to Louisville, for the purpose of conferring with them, and of making some sort of agreement as to schedule etc.

We got busy, had a meeting called and did as requested, sending ten or twelve good citizens among whom was Hartford's Mayor, the County Judge, Clerk, Sheriff and Commonwealth's Attorney, the others all leading business men of this community. These men left their places of business, lost their time and as a matter of course were not out on a lark or seeking fun, neither were they paying out money to be made playthings by the Railroad Company. But that is exactly what happened.

The Railroad people virtually denied having made any propositions through Mr. Bennett, or even asking for a conference with citizens on the matter of better service, although it was apparent that they expected to meet a delegation, because it was arranged for, that was self evident, so all present report.

The Railroad Company evidently decided that they could defeat the measure requiring adequate service, as proposed by Mason's bill, or else they did not believe that the people of this vicinity would accept their invitation for the conference, owing to the great inconvenience in getting a respectable, representative body of men to leave their business and spend the time and money necessary in order to meet them as requested. And in the event the people should fail to respond and accept their terms—which, as Mr. Bennett said, sounded too good to be true—the Company would use it as a club before the Committee having charge of the Bill. Our failure to confer with the Company, or to accept its offer of good service as they proposed through Mr. Bennett, would have lost sympathy for the measure, if there be any, and would naturally have placed this community in a very bad light with the Legislature. We are inclined to the belief that the Railroad Co., made the request and date for the conference with the latter view, that is, that the people would not respond.

If the Legislature fails to pass some sort of measure giving some relief to localities situated as this 55 miles of territory through which this M. H. & E. passes, it will be a disgrace to the State of Kentucky, and ought to be to the lasting shame of every member who votes against it, advisedly.

The denial of the R. R. Company's officials of a request for the meeting and their professed ignorance of the matter, thereby attempting to infer that Alvin Bennett mis-represented the matter or acted without authority, is not believed by a single individual in Ohio County or elsewhere, who knows Bennett. Some skunk or skunks played Bennett dirty and false. Some slick-handed representative of the Railroad Company, through Bennett's ever-ready desire to help the home folks wherever and whenever he can, acted most shamefully, and while the meeting was a fiasco, we hope it may prove a boomerang to the R. R. Company.

MRS. HOOVER.

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Hoover, widow of Cornelius Hoover, who died many years ago, departed this life early Monday night at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. L. 30th Hoover, near Clear Run, after a lingering illness of bronchitis.

After funeral services the body was buried at Clear Run Church burial grounds, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The deceased lady was near 81 years old and was highly respected by all who know her.

J. H. THOMAS GOES TO KENTUCKY'S CAPITOL

Our friend and former editor of this paper, has resigned his position with the Owensboro Messenger and has accepted the position of Editorial Manager of the Kentucky Republican, the new paper started in Frankfort. Mr. Thomas' long years of service in the newspaper game, as Writer and Editor peculiarly fits him for the work he will be called upon to do in his new field of labor. We congratulate Mr. Thomas and the Kentucky Republican—Mr. Thomas, that he has the exact line of work he so much relished and the Republican that its columns are to be a reflection of his mind and pen.

COMMITTEE GOES TO CAPITOL FOR HEARING

In response to request of Ohio County's Representative, J. S. Mason, a representative body of Citizens left here Monday afternoon for Frankfort, where arrangements had been made for a hearing before the Committee to whom the proposed bill for enforced passenger service had been referred.

After the flurry the L. & N. pulled off in Louisville, Saturday, it was seen that nothing was to be gained except at the hands of Kentucky's lawmaking power. Hence Mr. Mason renewed his efforts along that line and secured an agreement that the Committee would hear the Citizens of this section upon the justice of their claims.

In a hurried call for a meeting of the citizens of this place, Monday morning, issued 15 minutes before the time fixed for the meeting, a whole room full were present, and a number volunteered to make the trip, notwithstanding the hardships to themselves and consequent loss to their business. Those composing the party were as follows:

W. H. Parks, M. L. McCracken, M. T. Likens, Isaac Foster, R. R. Riley, U. S. Carson, C. N. Baird, S. O. Keown, Cai P. Keown, A. C. Acton, M. L. Heavrin, nil of Hartford, W. H. Itenfrow and W. S. Dean, of Dundee, and L. T. Barnard, of Tichenor's Mines. There were probably some others whose names we did not get.

CROMWELL

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stewart are sick. Mr. Ernest Dunn, of whose illness we spoke last week, is not doing so well.

Mr. Jim Coots has been seriously ill, but is now improving.

Quite a number of cases of flu are reported in the Green River neighborhood, but none in town.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Fleener received news yesterday that their daughter, Gorin, who is in Harrisburg, Ark., has flu. Miss Lelia Glenn, of Hartford, who is with her, also has it. Both are doing very well.

Mrs. Clarence Itel is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stewart.

Mrs. C. A. Wilson is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Martin.

Mr. Clarence James has returned from business trip to Evansville.

Mr. T. C. Stratton, of Griffin, Ind., is here. He says Cromwell is good enough for him.

We have had three weddings recently. This is leap year—See?

Mr. Dick Gentry and Mrs. Mattle Nanney were married at Hartford Saturday.

Mr. Owen Butler and Miss Gobel Drake eloped to Rockport, Ind., and were married last Wednesday. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Butler, and the bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Drake.

Mr. Murel Taylor and Miss Virginia Sandefur surprised their friends Saturday by going over to the Methodist Parsonage and getting married.

We wish them all much joy.

LEXINGTON IS SCENE OF WILD DISORDERS

5 Killed, 21 Wounded When Mob Attempts To Lynch Doomed Black

Lexington, the fair Capitol of the Blue Grass, was the scene Monday of the wildest disorder that city has ever experienced. Will Locket, the self-confessed murderer of the little ten year old girl, Geneva Hardman, near South Elk horn, Fayette county, a short time ago, was on trial, or rather had just been given the quietest trial on record in this State, less than 25 minutes having been consumed in disposing of the case. The Court had just passed sentence upon the doomed negro, when the fatal attempt was made by the howling mob to take the prisoner from the hands of the law, that he might be executed according to the mob's own notion.

To prevent such a distortion of justice, Governor Morrow had called out the State Militia, under direct command of Adjutant General J. M. DeWeese. When some one in the crowd screamed out "Let's get him" immediately the mob pressed forward in the face of warnings from Gen. DeWeese. When it was seen that no other power on earth could stop the howling mass, the soldiers turned loose and 4 men fell dead at the Court House steps, another died of his wounds shortly after 11 o'clock, living about an hour, and 21 others are known to be seriously wounded, that being the newspaper reports of the killed and wounded, though private communications from Lexington state many more whose names were not given out were wounded. Naturally, many of the wounded were innocent, but curious spectators.

A call was made upon Camp Taylor for Federal troops, as only a few of the State's Militiamen were on guard and about 4 o'clock p. m., several hundred arrived on the double quick. The Regulars soon broke up all congregations of men, moved them out and established a dead line in the vicinity surrounding the Court House, where the negro was guarded. Marshal law was declared by Br. Gen. Francis S. Marshall, who was in command of the Federal troops which gave the military department of the Federal Government complete authority over Lexington and Fayette County for the first time in its history.

The action of the authorities in behalf of law and order has been very generally commended throughout the entire country, and Gen. DeWeese's handling of the situation, though most trying, has met with special approbation by the Press of Louisville.

The condemned murderer was conveyed by special train to the Eddyville Penitentiary Tuesday night, where he will die in the electric chair March 11.

HARTFORD HIGH SCHOOL DRIBBS CALHOUN OUTFIT

The Calhoun High School Basket Ball Team met the local aggregation at the Rink, here last Thursday night, (the 1st.) in the best game Hartford High has staged during the season. There was considerable delay in starting the game, owing to protest against the proposed playing of James Glenn on the local team, about whose right to play there was much room for doubt, and it was best to resolve the doubt in favor of the visiting team, which was done. Due to the protest and hitch, both teams went upon the floor with some feeling, and considerable blood in their eyes, therefore the entire fracas was a snappy, scrapy and swift affair from start to finish, the spectators getting value received for the quarters left at the ticket tacker's window.

Walker, Barrass and Hasper were the going garners for the locals while Merlin Glenn and Valentine secured all of the Calhoun markers, ten of them being made by free tosses.

The line-up was as follows:

LUCE-TICHENOR.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Mattie Luce and Mr. Harry Tichenor were married at the home of Mrs. W. D. Luce, of the Goshen neighborhood. The wedding was very quiet, only the immediate families were present. Miss Mattie is a native Hartford woman, where she is loved and respected by a large circle of admiring friends. Mr. Tichenor is a man of sterling worth, a citizen of our neighboring city, Beaver Dam. The Republican extends its warmest congratulations also in behalf of their large circle of friends.

BALD KNOB.

Mr. Oda Haerath has gone into business in Mr. L. L. Lenox's store.

Mrs. Mary Davis is seriously ill.

Mr. Arthur Havens is moving to Mr. Ike Cooper's farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Taylor and little sons, Darrel C. and Oswal D. and Mr. and Mrs. Norval Leach were visitors at Mr. E. P. Sandefur's Friday.

Mrs. Martha Leach, who has been sick for some time, is no better.

Mr. Henry Havens is moving to Mr. Bob Barnard's farm.

Mrs. Della Taylor is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Sandefur, of Holbrook, Arizona, are visiting their father, Mr. E. P. Sandefur.

Mr. Richard Sandefur is on the sick list.

We are very thankful we have no flu in our community that we know of, and the 'mumps' are about gone.

BEAVER DAM.

Miss Elsie Wise is confined to her bed with rheumatism.

The Wedding Bells are still ringing merrily in our town.

Quite a few persons are suffering from the influenza here.

Lee Mason's family and Ulus James' family and Edgar Calvert all have the flu.

S. M. Dexter is in the east this week, buying a stock of goods for Dexter & Vincent.

Leo Brown, of Beaver Dam, was here, the guest of Robt. Plummer and family last Monday.

E. S. McMillen, of Illinois, who formerly resided here, was in town, on business, this week.

Robert Howe and wife of Drakesboro, were the guests of A. B. Rowo and family a few days ago.

Mrs. Mary Crowe went to Louisville, to be the guest of her brother, Dr. McKinney, this week.

Atrice Faught and Miss Neillie Bishop went to Rockport, Ind., last Wednesday and were married. Their many friends here wish them much happiness through life.

LIBEL INDICTMENT QUASHED BY COURT

John Rhea Given Knockout By Russellville Paper And Herndons

Russellville, Ky., Feb. 10.—On the ground that the grand jury which indicted A. M. Herndon, Mrs. A. M. Herndon and J. F. Logan for alleged criminal libel had been impaneled illegally and unduly and had been unlawfully influenced by Circuit Judge John S. Rhea, a motion to quash the indictment made by attorneys for the defense was sustained in Court here today.

The case was styled the Commonwealth vs. the Logan County Press Company and grew out of criticism of Circuit Judge Rhea by the Herndons who charged that the 'Rhea political machine' dominated the county's courts, elections and juries.</p

SENATOR CAPPER RAPS PROFITEERS

Department Does Nothing To Cut Profits Of Big Business

Washington, February.—While Attorney General Palmer continues to deliberate on how he will bring down the cost of living with his own little Hatchet, the Federal Reserve Board reports that the prevailing high prices are an "inevitable menace" and Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas gives some figures to indicate that much of the trouble is due to profiteering, which the Department of Justice has done nothing to stop. He says:

"The net profits of the American Woolen Company, after Federal taxes had been deducted, were $2,778,566 in 1914, $5,160,295 in 1915, $8,224,761 in 1916, $15,664,985 in 1917 and $12,324,084 in 1918. All on an invested capital of twenty-two millions. The earnings on its common stock were $10.80 a share in 1914, $27.05 a share in 1916, $47.62 a share in 1917, and this year, according to best Wall Street information, will exceed $100 a share, or more than the stock's par value. Never ago the watered stock of the American Woolen Company, the chief textile company in the United States, was quoted on the stock exchange at $50. Today it is close to 150, and in recent weeks has been quoted at 150."

"For the wool that goes into a suit of clothes which sells for $100 the wool grower receives $7.35, says the Wool Growers' Association. This makes the finished garment cost the consumer more than twelve times the price of the raw material. The price of clothing has made enormous advances and is still advancing notwithstanding the American Wool Company cleaned up, net profits of 56 per cent in 1917 and in 1918—or $2,400,000 more than the $20,000 total of the company's authorized outstanding stock.

"There can be no real shortage of cotton with a crop of 11,000,000 bales added to 3,600,000 bales left over from 1918, but it is a common occurrence, I am told, for the speculators on the Cotton Exchange to boost the crop's value $50,000,000 in a single day. In one week, during the crop year, they actually increased it one-half billion dollars.

"At a time when shoe manufacturers have issued an announcement of still higher prices for shoes, the report of one of the great leather corporations shows profits earned of 52 per cent on the stock. The stock of most such corporations originally did not represent strictly dollar for dollar the money invested, but a good part of the stock represented earning power. A great deal, or most, of the so-called "water" in security issues stands for what the organizers believe the concern could earn at a fair dividend rate. But 52 per cent is not a safe rate of return on such watered capitalization. As long as unrestricted prices of stocks soar in Wall Street, you must be prepared to pay robbery returns.

"While we were sending the boys to France, eating war bread, and conducting all kinds of drives to win the war the United States Steel Corporation made $1,300,000,000 net profit. The price of steel common stock, worthless at the beginning, soars to waters of unfathomable depths.

"The market price of the farmer's live stock has declined nearly 50 per cent, bringing many farmers to the verge of bankruptcy. But the high prices the consumer pays for meat are actually unchanged. This is particularly true of pork, of which we have a surplus of more than one and a half million pounds, produced last year, besides large quantities in storage."

"I earnestly urge as a remedy to meet this emergency an active prosecution of profiteers followed by their punishment and a law requiring every manufacturer to attach to every article he produces the exact price he deserves for it. I am confident nothing else will so quickly reduce and restore business and industry to a safe and sane basis. I also urge drastic reduction in Government expenses, prompt enactment by Congress of the measures for strict regulation of the packing industry, and Federal supervision of cold-storage business. The people can help themselves, too, if they will organize to boycott the profit hogs by refusing to buy goods offered at extortionate prices.

Dollars and Cents.

Counting it only in dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you? A man may not always stop work when he has a cold, but perhaps it would be better if he did. It takes about ten days to get completely rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care of yourself. In fact, a bottle of this remedy in the house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months.

BROTHER OF QUEEN MARY TIP FOR KING

Paris, Feb. 7.—A cautious but substantial boom has been launched for a brother of Queen Mary of England to be crowned King of Hungary.

On the heels of the allied acts forbidding forever the reinstatement of the Hapsburg dynasty comes word from Budapest that the Hungarian monarchists have decided to offer the throne to Marquis Adolphus of Cambridge, who was formerly a Duke of Teck and is Queen Mary's brother. This propaganda for the English peer is connected by observers with Sir George Clark's mission to Hungary. Clever genealogists have succeeded in discovering that the Teck family is of Magyar origin dating back to King Arpad's reign.

Queen Mary of England is the daughter of the late Duke of Teck. That Teuton family name was discarded in 1917, when her brother, Lieut. Col. Adolphus Charles Alexander Albert Edward George Philip Louis Ladislaus was created Marquis of Cambridge. Later he was made Viscount North Allerton. He has been governor and constable of Windsor castle since 1914.

PROPERTY OF EX-AUSTRIAN KING SOLD, $6,000,000

Geneva, Feb. 7.—Austria has received approximately $6,000,000 from the sale of former Emperor Charles' personal property, according to advices from Pangins, where the erstwhile monarch is residing.

Jewels, works of art and valuable objects belonging to Charles and members of the Hapsburg family still remain to be sold, and are said to be valued at several million dollars.

Proceeds from them will be confiscated by the Austrian Government, it is said.

ADMINISTRATION WILL HAVE NO FARMER VOTE

Washington, Feb. 7.—Governor Harding, of Iowa, who was in Washington this week, said he regarded the country as strongly Republican and that he saw no reason why the Republicans should not win a sweeping victory in November.

Governor Harding said the administration was utterly out of favor with the farmers of the Central West, including Iowa, and that it was impossible for it to get into the favor of the farmers.

"If the League of Nations issue is thrown into the campaign," said Governor Harding, "there can be no question of the verdict on that. The American people are going to vote to sustain Americanized reservations. It is utterly impossible to defend Article X without reservation or change before the people of this country, and William J. Bryan perceived this when he warned his party not to go before the people on such a question."

A scald burn, or severe cut heals slowly if neglected. The family that keeps a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment on hand is always prepared for such accidents. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co.

Why More Small Cars Come Equipped With Goodyear Tires

Last year, more small cars, using 30 x 3-, 30 x 3½, or 31 x 4-inch tires, were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these small-car tires by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupulous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at our nearest Service Station. Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

MILLIONS SOUGHT BY COAL COMPANIES

Claim R. R. Administration Discriminated Against Operators

Knoxville, Tenn., Feb. 6.—Suit for several million dollars is threatened against the United States Railroad Administration by coal operators along the Louisville & Nashville railroad lines in the Tennessee-Kentucky field. It is charged that the Railroad Administration has discriminated against operators along these lines in making distributions of coal cars. The situation is said to be very serious, and it is stated that repeated appeals for relief have been futile. Tennessee-Kentucky operators recently filed with the United States Railroad Administration a statement of conditions prevailing and made another appeal for the removal of the discrimination. J. E. McCoy, secretary of the Southern Appalachian Coal Operators' Association, estimates that operators along L. & N. lines have lost from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 as a result of the receipt of less percentage of cars than has been delivered to other sections of the country.

A telegram was sent last night to B. L. Winchell, Regional Director of the United States Railroad Administration, at Atlanta, asking why the railroad lines in the Southern region do not execute the administration's orders and deliver daily to the L. & N. the number of pool and foreign cars stipulated at junction points.

The telegram stated that the delivery of pool equipment since January 28 has been trifling, the supply to the Cumberland Valley division yesterday being less than 40 per cent. "The situation is deplorable," the telegram continues. "The operators threaten to shut down and suits against the administration. We urge mandatory execution of orders. What relief can we expect? Advise."

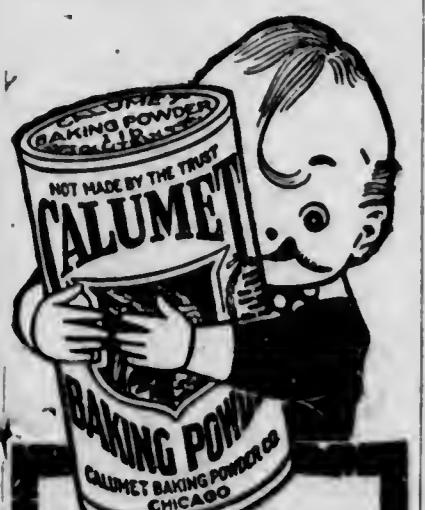

Information was received here today to the effect that the Southern Railway in placing coal cars at miles in Coal Creek district notified operators that cars must be loaded with fuel else cars will not be moved. Operators' official contend this is violation of railroad rulings. They believe order applies to other sections also.

HOW U. S. RULES DUTCH POSSESSION

Sailing Vessels Obtaining Recruits Has Ameri- canized Island.

The beautiful little island of Saba probably is one of the least known of the West Indian group, and is to be found marked only on maps drawn on a large scale. It lies about twenty miles to the northwest of the town of Basseterre, St. Kitts, from which port there is regular weekly mail service by sailing vessel.

Passengers from New York to the Leeward Islands are familiar with the rock, for it is a recognized landmark for southbound ships and is generally sighted a few hours after leaving St. Thomas, the newly acquired colony of the United States. Grim and forbidding, Saba rises sheer out of the sea, inevitably prompting the question; "Does anybody live on such a place as that?"

Yet the little island which is twelve miles in circumference, supports a population of about 2,000 people and is very interesting as one of the few islands possessed by Holland in the West Indies.

Would not Know It:

A Hollander on arriving at the island might, however, find it difficult to realize that he was in one of the possessions of his country. He would be able to salute his flag, and in the persons of a small detachment of soldiers and the Roman Catholic priest, would be able to greet his fellow countrymen; but there the Dutch aspect of Saba ceases.

Years ago the custom grew up (in all probability in consequence of the color question views of America) of United States schooners short of crews in the West Indies coming for recruits to the only island where the captains could be certain of obtaining white sailors. The result has been the gradual Americanization of Saba. Man has followed man until the bulk of the remaining population consists of females, whilst family after family have husband, father and brothers sailing out of New York.

All over the world these Saba men go, as the mail-bag reveals, until it is the proud boast of the island that its sailors can be found in every port. Naturalization naturally follows this exodus, and then, as soon as possible, a home is made under the Stars and Stripes.

The clannishness of the people is wonderful, and the excellent condition of the houses is almost entirely due to money sent from the states. It is the photographs of Taft, Roosevelt, and Wilson that adorn their walls; New York is the place towards which the thoughts of the people turn; and the American mail is the mail, in strong contrast to the small bag containing perhaps half-a-dozen letters from Holland. English is the language used for all save official purposes. American paper money pours into the island by every mail, and Dutch coin is hard to obtain. Frequent applications are made to the sister islands for Dutch money at a premium, and when visiting Saba recently, the writer was begged to bring all the Dutch coin he could in exchange for American bills.

It should, however, be said that the people are in no sense disloyal to their mother country, or ungrateful to her for what she has done. It is simply that Holland is so far away, and her immediate influence on the inhabitants' lives so small, that the vastly greater and more accessible republic to which their bread-winners have gone has claimed and held their interest.

Saba, indeed, raises the whole question of the influence of the United States in the West Indies, and serves to remind us that, even in these days, peaceful penetration still remains a strong factor in international life. Since the war with Spain, Porto Rico has been a definitely American colony; the Danish islands of St. Thomas, St. Jan, and St. Croix were recently acquired by the United States; American influence is paramount in Cuba, whilst order has been restored thru her intervention in San Domingo and Hayti, an island of infinite promise. One sometimes wonders whether the hoisting of the Stars and Stripes in other islands besides the ex-Danish Virginias, would produce any very violent change in the national outlook of the population.—From Chamber's Journal.

Each Day of This Year You Will Find In The Herald

All the local, state, country and foreign news that can be obtained by the Associated Press, the Universal News Service, our special correspondents and our local staff; news when it is news; news when it is true, not otherwise. No other newspaper can give you more; very few newspapers will give you as much.

The Associated Press wires will furnish us with all the news of the United States and Europe, the European news will be supplemented by special cables from all the European capitals, by the Universal News Service. Our special correspondents will furnish us with news from the state, and our local staff will gather all the news of the city of Louisville.

So that you may be sure in reading the Louisville Herald, that any event, whether it occurs in Kamchatka or in Kalamazoo, if it has news interest, it will be in your newspaper.

The Louisville Herald, while it prides itself on being, primarily, a newspaper, realizes that there is more in life than occurrences that are of news value. People wish to be amused, instructed and entertained as well, and the Louisville Herald has spared no expense to do these very things for its readers. Its slogan is something of interest for every member of the family.

Mother and the girls will naturally enjoy the whole newspaper, but there are a few special features that are written for the women folks alone that we are sure they will find not only interesting but instructive in many instances.

The society notes will be of interest to many; the daily fiction will interest many more, and it should, as some of our best authors are preparing it. There are very few women who will not get something of real value from Cynthia Grey's column, whether it is a matter of advice, a cooking recipe, ideas as to entertaining, or any of the countless things that one wishes to know about. Simply write Cynthia Grey and she will gladly give you her aid in solving your problem.

Then there is a daily series of editorials on things of particular interest to women by Charlotte Gilman Perkins; a daily installment of that interesting serial "Confessions of a Bride," Edgar A. Guest's daily poem "Just Folks," which makes such a wonderful appeal to all lovers of good poetry, and last, but far from least, the pleasure that women get in reading the advertising and the savings they also make in taking advantage of the various sales.

For the male members of the family we offer what we consider as good an editorial page as can be found anywhere. There the current events of the day, their cause and effect are touched upon by the trenchant pens of our editorial staff to the delight and edification of all our readers.

The financial page will give the current quotations on all stocks and bonds; the latest quotations on grain, cotton, produce, live stock, tobacco, oil and every commodity that is listed on the exchange. The modern man can not do business these days without the financial page of a metropolitan newspaper. Neither can the ordinary male citizen get along without the sporting news of the day, and in The Herald he will find, unqualifiedly, the best sport page published in Kentucky.

Every member of the family will enjoy the cartoons, particularly "Bringing Up Father;" "the Conning Tower," by F. P. A.; "New York Day By Day," by McIntyre; the interesting articles by Frederic A. Haskin and the daily dramatic and movie criticisms.

There will be other features in The Herald from time to time, but the above are the regular features that you are sure of each day of the year in your Herald. Do you know of any newspaper that offers more? We doubt if you know of any newspaper that gives you nearly as much; a year's happiness for every member of the family, and all for five dollars.

If you are unfamiliar with The Herald we will gladly send you a sample copy. We would suggest that you send in your subscription now, and thus protect yourself for the coming year against a possible raise in subscription rates. Give your subscription to your local agent now. If there is none in your town, send in the coupon below.

land, by economic pressure or blockade, to give up the Kaiser, according to information received today. A new note now being drafted is to be the chief subject of discussion at Premier Lloyd George's new peace conference, which is to be held in Downing street Wednesday or Thursday.

"The new note," it is said, "will simply appeal to the sense of fair play of the Dutch government to surrender the person of the arch criminal. The issue will be fought out solely on the lines of international law. The allies are determined to show The Hague that it should surrender the Kaiser in the interest of world peace. Holland, it is understood, is willing to yield in the event that the allied diplomats prove their case."

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13

Herbert Hoover has announced that he is not yet ready to announce his party affiliation. Thus the suspense remains suspended.

President Wilson still refuses to have the League amended by the reservations proposed, and the contrary Republican majority yet stands out against adopting the document without. So there you are.

Things are powerfully on the drag here, of late. The roads were never worse perhaps than now; it takes about six miles to pull a one-horse load and our people don't have energy enough to even talk good roads from the soap boxes they are warming.

In the good old days of simplicity the Democratic Jackson day dinner plates were laid at one dollar per head, but this last affair was at the fancy price of four times and more, beyond the days of simplicity. Evidently these latter day members of the untrified who partake of this annual function are headed toward millionaire's row.

It looks so natural and common these days to see in the daily papers that the Democrats in the Senate held a caucus to discuss certain questions, but owing to the fact that President Wilson had not been consulted, and the Democrats not being advised as to just what the President wished in the matter, no agreement was reached. The meeting adjourned to await further action, pending the President's orders, or wishes, which amounts to the same thing.

It was a sad and lamentable affair, that men of ordinary intelligence, and we feel sure that they were also usually law-abiding, should lose their bearings and for the moment give way to passion that smothered their finer sense of duty to the community and to the Commonwealth, making of them akin to the ordinary savage for the time being—the individual sought, from a personal standpoint, deserved the worst possible to be brought upon him, yet from it all we get the consoling thought that his punishment is both near and certain and it will be via the route laid down by the agency which must protect me and my family and you and your family in times of need, if protection is to be had.

MOB REIGN AND RIOT VS—LAW PLUS BULLETS

The shooting to death of a half dozen people and wounding more than a score of others, the majority of whom we take it, were ordinarily decent and law-abiding, simply for the protection of a worthless, self-confessed, degenerate criminal's life, is in itself apparently inexcusable. We fear that too many look upon the deplorable episode that transpired at Lexington last Monday as being just the state of case described above. But on the contrary, exactly the reverse view should prevail among all right thinking people. It was a test and clash of mob, reign and riot vs. the law of the Land, which necessarily had to be backed up by rifle, bayonet and bullet. The crime of the prisoner whom the mob desired to lynch was the most brutal and brutal known in our land these days, yet the murdered girl's nearest kinsmen had made a strong appeal, not in behalf of the criminal, but in behalf of the law, that punishment be meted out in accordance with the prescribed methods of the land. The murderer was in the hands of the Court, in fact the form of trial had been completed, the presiding Judge had barely finished passing sentence upon the doomed culprit, even to the fixing of the date when he should be electrocuted. Nothing, in the course of human event, was more certain than the fact that atonement for the crime perpetrated was to be made in the electric chair on March the eleventh, the nearest date possible that could be fixed under the law, and the days he must spend 'twixt now and then will most certainly be worse for him than the day of March the eleventh. It was at this juncture that the wild mob took it into its head to drag the prisoner from the Court, to trample under foot all semblance of law and order, to execute by its own hands and in its own passionate manner, instead of allowing punishment to go as directed by the duly authorized and constituted authorities. The mob attacked in the face of the State's military establishment sent there for the purpose of preventing this very thing, the soldiers had no other business there. The people had received fair warning of what would happen, they disregarded it, while deplorable, they, like the other violator of the law, paid the penalty, and have only themselves to blame. The attempt to mob the negro under all the circumstances was bad enough, but to have succeeded through the overpowering of, or the surrendering of the protective arms of the majesty of the law would have been to the everlasting disgrace of the Commonwealth. As we see it no blame attaches to those who were not there merely to defend a criminal but for the purpose of defending the law, the only bulwark and safeguard standing between this Country and absolute waste and ruin.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

Doc Riley says it has been his experience through his whole medical life, that patients in moderate to good financial circumstances remain sick a great deal longer than those in the other class, viz: from moderate down.

We saw Lee Simmerman the old druggist and Henry Leach the new drug dispenser, two doctors and our Undertaker in earnest and whispered confab a few days ago and we have not only steered clear of that quinette ourself but have warned all of our friends whom we could reach without cost or too much trouble.

The wife of a prominent merchant of Hartford and the wife of an ex-County Official, who had all sorts of chances to graft, whether he did or didn't, and our own wife all went to the Poor House one day last week. We never did just exactly learn what the trouble was, or where the hitch took place. All we know is that each of the aforesaid ladies occupied their accustomed berth in the home roost that night.

We are immensely surprised that so many fellows, including Squire Dean, of Dundee, so readily agreed to go to Louisville and Frankfort under these present and tight lid conditions. Nothing could be done to induce Ed Barrass, Mut Hunter, Leo Simmerman and Joe Tate to make either of the trips. They did not have sufficient confidence in the author of this stuff to even ask him to go.

Our Work Comended

We received a communication from a guy in the back-woods town of Duluth, Minn., this week, which we deem to be extraordinarily complimentary, and, in as much as there was an enclosure of five bleached bones for subscription in advance, to the date Feb. 30th, 1923, we publish the epistle in full. Here goes:

My Dear Mr. Editor:

I say "Mr." because I well remember how sweet that sounded to me when I was occupying the throne of honor in a like position.

I read one of your papers the other day and it occurred to me that some honest criticism might be of some benefit to one or two of your eight sheets. The paragraphs that follow will therefore be very frank.

To begin with I notice that some headings are being used that were originally written years ago and from issue to issue are always the same, such as "Beads Oddly Strung," "Stray Streaks," etc. There are many ways those "heads" could be varied. For example you could have the heads evenly, or regularly, strung. In fact, I see no reason why it should not be entirely rewritten. A head has lost its meaning since the verboten law went into effect. And why have the "streaks" always "stray"? If for sentimental reasons you don't want to change the meaning make it "Extrayed Streaks" at times and again "Strecks' Estrayed," but to be frank about it I would recommend substitution of the word "bull" where you now have "streaks."

You should be more careful in your insinuations against people personally. I refer in particular to that in which the impression was made that a prominent citizen, a former postmaster, was likely to imbibe in wood alcohol. I know that man personally—he would never drink that stuff knowingly and I have too much respect for his judgment to believe he could be enticed unknowingly. Why he has been known to distinguish brands by smell after the scent had traveled from "Heg's" to his home on Center street. I believe he could tell it was wood by the sound made by the cork when drawn from the bottle.

There are too many funeral notices and not enough birth announcements in your paper.

When speaking of that all-important lad you should say "satan" and not "devil."

When a man calls your sheet yellow, etc., I wouldn't publish it like you do but would try to keep it quiet. You see there are likely to be some who haven't given the matter any thought.

Of course there are a lot of other things that could be said, "Tins," but aside from them, which I haven't time to mention, and the above it is a very good paper. I hope some time to see it almost as good as the one I once edited in the South.

Moderately,

ANN THE RED.

P. S. I am thinking of starting a newspaper in Canada or Cuba. Would you and I. D. Claire be interested?

Billiken Shoes

Billiken

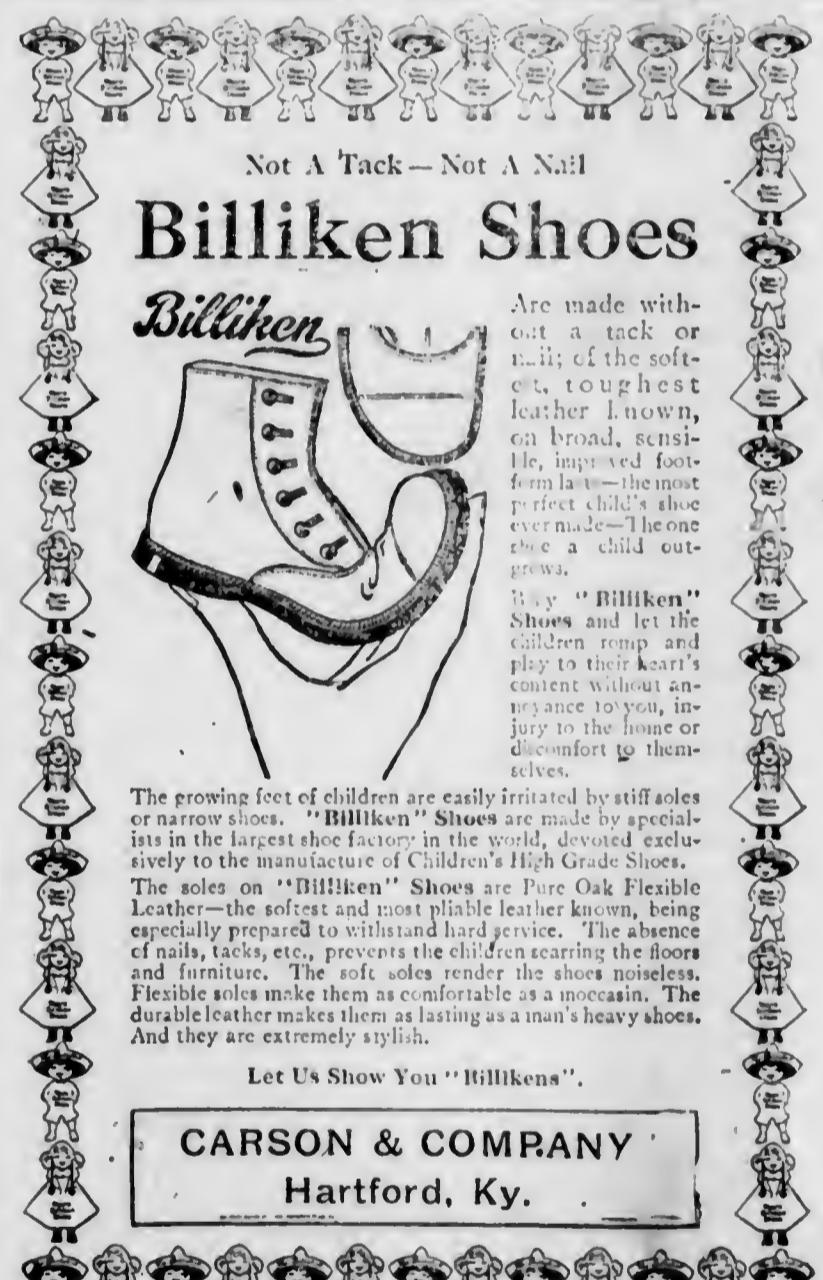

Are made without a tack or nail; of the softest, toughest leather known, on broad, sensible, impervious foot-forms—the most perfect child's shoe ever made. The one that a child outgrows.

Buy "Billiken" Shoes and let the children romp and play to their heart's content without annoyance to you, injury to the home or discomfort to them-selves.

The growing feet of children are easily irritated by stiff soles or narrow shoes. "Billiken" Shoes are made by specialists in the largest shoe factory in the world, devoted exclusively to the manufacture of Children's High Grade Shoes. The soles on "Billiken" Shoes are Pure Oak Flexible Leather—the softest and most pliable leather known, being especially prepared to withstand hard service. The absence of nails, tacks, etc., prevents the children tearing the floors and furniture. The soft soles render the shoes noiseless. Flexible soles make them as comfortable as a moccasin. The durable leather makes them as lasting as a man's heavy shoes. And they are extremely stylish.

COAL COMPANIES FACE PROFITEERING CHARGE

Seven warrants charging profiteering against concerns in both the eastern and western Kentucky coal fields have been taken out by the Fair Price Committee of Kentucky, it was announced yesterday. More will follow in other counties.

Stories of coal companies are alleged to be selling food at prices exceeding the markings set by the commission, but the warrants, in most cases, have been taken out under state laws against selling by short weight.

The Beaver Dam Coal Co., of Hartford, is charged with selling food by short weight. The case will come up for trial March 1. The commission will be represented at the trial by W. B. Kendrick, state investigator for the Department of Justice, and by the A. D. Kirk, county attorney at Hartford.

"We intend to have warrants issued in every county of the state where circumstances justify," said Mr. Kendrick yesterday.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION.

There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets affords a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not so likely to be followed by constipation.

LATONIA WHISKY IS TUNNELED OUT

Covington, Ky., Feb. 1.—After checking up whisky at Warehouse No. 2, Latonia, Revenue Agent Harry Klaene and other revenue men from the internal revenue office at Covington, ascertained that fourteen barrels, containing approximately 560 gallons of whisky, had been stolen.

An investigation showed that rafters had been cut, and the liquor lowered to a tunnel which has an outlet on Green avenue near the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. There are several thousand barrels of whisky in the warehouse which is part of the liquor belonging to the Kentucky Distillers' Warehouse Company, Louisville. At present prices the stolen whisky is estimated to be worth $28,000. Authorities believe the liquor was received recently.

But let him be warned that a few more insulting remarks like he made last week about his betters will make it unsafe for him to come at all. A word to the wise is a plenty and then some.

REINSTATEMENT OF WAR RISK INSURANCE

To relieve any confusion that may exist in the minds of former service men on account of the special provision of lapsed War Term Insurance which authorized reinstatement up to December 21, 1919, regardless of date of discharge, announcement is made by Director R. G. Chomey—Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance that the provisions for reinstatement of lapsed or cancelled insurance, within 18 months from date of discharge, upon payment of only two months' premiums on the stated, provided the insured is in as good health as at the date of discharge or expiration of the grace period whichever is the later date, and so states in his application, still hold good.

The provision that discharged service men are permitted to reinstate at any time within three calendar months following the month of discharge by merely paying the two months' premiums, without making a formal application or a statement as to health is also still in force.

The provisions for reinstatement do not protect a man until he actually reinstates. If he waits he may not be in good health as he was at the time of discharge and consequently may not be able to secure reinstatement.

Don't put off reinstatement. Do it now.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough remedy for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drug and most effectual in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.

TWO STATE TAX JOBS ORDERED ELIMINATED

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3.—Governor Morrow today sent a letter to Chairman J. A. Scott, of the State Tax Commission, directing him to dispense immediately with the services of the supervisor of tax agents and the tax expert. These jobs are held respectively by Gates Young, of Owensesboro, and John Buechel, of Louisville. Their discharge increases the number of useless jobs thus far abolished by the new administration to thirty-nine.

You will do yourself an injustice if you don't try the De Laval before buying. It has few parts, therefore longer life; makes a better quality of butter fat, having taken all premiums for butter at the Creamery Conventions for the last 25 years; and there are more De Lavals in use than all other makes combined, which is sufficient evidence of the superiority of the De Laval. FARM DEPARTMENT.

Ten Essentials Listed For Beef Raisers

General improvement in the type and quality of beef animals the country over is one of the means urged by the United States Department of Agriculture for bringing down the high cost of meat to the consumer and, at the same time, increasing the profit of the producer. Some of the most essential items in growing beef on the farm, specialists of the department say, are:

Plenty of pasture and feed.

The right kind of cows—those that will produce good calves regularly.

A good, purebred registered bull—one that will sire good calves persistently.

A large calf crop. This means that all cows shall drop calves, and that the calves shall be properly cared for at birth.

Proper care of the breeding herd and the calves.

Selection of good heifer calves to replace old or inferior cows.

Prevention of disease among the breeding herd and the younger stock.

Shelter sufficient to protect the cattle from both severe cold and extremely hot weather.

A practical knowledge of fattening cattle for market.

Marketing to advantage.

There is a Farmers Bulletin, No. 1073, on growing beef on the farms that may be had free on application to the Division of Publications, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Spring calves should be weaned before the end of the pasture season in the fall to allow them some time on grass if winter pasture can not be provided. If they are to be finished as baby beef they should go into dry lot at the end of the pasture season and be ready for market the following June or July.

Market Prices and Net Returns

In determining the best market it is not sufficient for a shipper merely to get quotations from the different cities and ship to that market which quotes the highest prices, according to experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. Freight and other charges must be subtracted from these quotations. All factors considered, the best market is the market which shows the greatest net returns. However, too much dependence must not be placed upon these quotations unless official, as in many cases they are merely approximations or opinions as to the trend of the market and are not usually direct factors. In case of doubt the best plan is to sell in the market with which the shipper is most familiar, through some one familiar with the goods and ways of the shipper.

APPLICATION FOR FARM LOANS TO BE REFUSED

HAITAINS STILL SAVAGES, SAYS RETURNED MARINE

Sao City, Iowa, Feb. 7.—John Page, a Jackson Township farm boy, declares that savagery and cannibalism are common in the republic of Haiti.

Page served there with the Marines and has told relatives and friends here of some hair-raising episodes that marked service for Uncle Sam in the West Indian Isle, indicating that as much excitement was experienced there as anywhere in the World War zone.

Page claims that he discovered that the citizens of the republic are really savages, believing in voodooism, involving witchcraft, snake worship and human sacrifice. Cannibalism and other South Sea Island practices are indulged in the interior, according to his statements.

Bandits thrive in Haiti, he avers. "Cacos capture law-abiding citizens or persons belonging to another band and torture them to death," he declares.

Page was on police duty at Haiti with other Yankee Marines.

MEXICAN EARTHQUAKE RELIEF

The American Red Cross has appropriated $10,000 from its disaster relief fund for the immediate relief of the victims of the recent earthquakes in Mexico. The money has been cabled to the American consul at Vera Cruz for use pending the arrival of an American Red Cross representative. In the meantime, unit of Red Cross relief workers is being recruited as rapidly as possible to take up the task of assisting the sufferers as soon as it can reach the scene.

Upon receipt of news of the disaster, which has cost many lives and spread untold suffering over a large territory, the American Red Cross expressed to both the League of Red Cross Societies and the Mexican government its willingness and desire to be of all possible assistance. The League cabled from Geneva that it would gratefully welcome action by the American Red Cross on its behalf, while the Mexican government expressed its appreciation of the offer of help and gave assurance of the cooperation of governmental agencies.

DELIRIOUS MOTHER DROPS BABE INTO HOG PEN

Pacific Junction, Kan., Feb. 7.—Suffering from pneumonia and in a delirious condition, Mrs. Charles Sulien, 19, wife of a farmer near here, left her bed the other day, seized her 5-day-old baby and dropped the infant in a hog pen, where it was quickly devoured.

The mother was later found lying unconscious at the fence over which she had dropped the child. Physicians say she can not recover.

CORRECTED CASUALTY LIST TOTAL IS 302,612

Washington, Feb. 7—Corrected figures on casualties in the A. E. F. published today by the War Department brought the total to 302,612, instead of 293,061 as shown in figures compiled from weekly reports furnished to the press.

The corrected figures were 221,059 wounded, 77,11 deaths, 4,432 captured by the enemy and three missing in action.

Casualties in Siberia were not included.

Which Would You Buy?

If you were buying a farm and there were two farms of exactly the same size for sale, located right next to each other, and if the soil was just the same but—one farm had 80 acres under cultivation and all in crop while the other had only 50 acres in crop, the crops being the same kind, and the farm with the 80 acres in crop had a big red barn and a good house while the other farm had only a small cabin for a house and an old straw-and-mud stable for a barn—

Which farm would you buy in a case like that if the price was about the same in both instances? Foolish question, isn't it?

Well, then—

If you were buying a new wagon and there were two different wagons of the same size that sold at about the same price, but—one wagon had exceptionally well ironed gears, was equipped with a "fifth-wheel" to distribute the strain on the front bolster and prevent whipping of the tongue and rocking of the bolster, and was also equipped with a swivel-reach-coupling to relieve both front and rear gear, axles, wheels, and brake of twisting strains when riding over rough ground, chuck holes, etc.—a wagon just like the standardized auto-track Weber—while the other wagon had none of these features—and we have not yet mentioned the quality of wood stock and the seasoning of the Weber to say nothing of the fact that the Weber Wagon's known reputation is unquestioned—

Which wagon would you buy? Tell us the answer when you are ready to buy a new wagon. We are the exclusive agents in this town for Weber standardized auto-track wagons.

MOUNDS TO BE RAZED.

The greatest work of the Mound Builders, the group of mounds at Cahokia, near St. Louis, will be sacrificed to factories, it is said, because the owner of the ground has been unable to interest congress or the legislatures of Illinois and Missouri in their preservation. The mounds are not only the greatest works of their builders but, in the words of Gerard Fowke, of the Missouri Historical Society, "are the most stupendous piles of earth ever erected by human hands solely as a monument or temple site." The great "Monk's Mound" is 1,080 feet long, or 280 feet longer than the great pyramid in Egypt. Its base covers nearly 16 acres. There are in all 75 mounds.

THE SIGNS OF LACK OF IRON IN THE BLOOD

Nervousness—Lack of Appetite—Easily Tired
—No Endurance—Falling Off
in Bodily Vigor

These are a few of the symptoms that indicate your blood is weak and anemic and lacking in red corpuscles. Vigorous young men and women all have rich red blood, but age and worry and hardship take the power and strength out of this life fluid.

You can supply what the blood lacks, you can enrich the blood, you can bring back the strength and vigor you once had, if you will take a teaspoonful of Acid Iron Mineral three times a day. You'll note the effect, first, in an increased appetite—food will begin to taste good. The next improvement will show in your sleep—you will awaken in the morning refreshed and feeling like a new person.

Your friends will remark the improvement in your appearance and you yourself will feel as you know you ought to feel.

You can accomplish all these things by simply putting more iron into your blood, through the use of natural form of soluble iron, known as Acid Iron Mineral. It contains no alcohol or injurious drugs, and will not blacken the teeth.

Pills and tonics said to contain iron may have disappointed you in the past, but Acid Iron Mineral will start improvement that you can see, in a very short time. Try this method of putting iron into your blood—it can't fail. Druggists will refund the purchase price cheerfully if you fail to receive the improvement you seek.

My Commission Expires, April 22, 1922. T. T. REID, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:

J. S. DANKS,
Directors.

Washington D. C.—Over 10,000 discharged, disabled soldiers were undergoing treatment in Public Health Service hospitals, or under contract with private hospitals, during Jan., 1920, according to tabulated returns. The number of applicants for treatment under the War Risk act is constantly increasing, as the men become familiar with the fact that they are entitled to free treatment.

FOR SALE

Six pure-bred Poland China Gilts, bred to pure-bred, big-boned Poland China Hogs. THESE GILTS ARE BRED TO FARROW IN MAY AND JUNE, Price $25.00 each, worth twice the money. Pedigrees furnished free. Two lard Sows, due to farrow Feb. 20th. These Sows are big-boned, big-type Poland Chinas and registered. One is 3 years old the other 2 years old, Price $50.00 each, worth $75.00 each. One 10 months old, registered Poland China Boar, big type. I will take $50.00 for this hog and he is worth $100 for he is going to make the largest hog that was ever in Ohio county. These hogs are all first class and as well bred as you will find anywhere in the United States. My reason for selling is that I want to quit the business. In fact, I want to sell everything I have. Come see, and if there is any trade in you you will own something.

331f Yours to sell,
W. S. DEAN, Dundee.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Ohio Circuit Court.
L. C. Brown, Special Deputy, Banking Commissioner, et al., Plaintiffs vs. Notice of sale.

Vig Hocker, et al., Defendants.

LALLEY LIGHT and POWER

Lalleyp-Light is a complete unit—engine and generator with 10-cell storage battery. It supplies ample electricity for lights, water pump, washing machine, electric cream separator, fanning mill, iron, etc.

Jalley Light

Preferred by Progressive Farmers

Every prospective buyer of an electric light and power plant should know that there is a pronounced preference for Lalleyp-Light.

This is especially so among progressive farmers—the keenest men in every locality.

If there were no other reason for the Lalleyp-Light preference, the fact that it has been in use for ten years would be sufficient.

But there are many good reasons—the greater Lalleyp-Light economy, its greater power, its long life, and the actual savings it makes in time and labor and money.
